Are You Deaf? Is Your Child Deaf?

Volunteer for the Looking Game Study!

Dawn Hathaway, Rechele Brooks, and Linden Hale from the Joint Attention Lab at the University of Washington.

We are looking for deaf or hard of hearing children to play during a Looking Game Study.

We want to learn about children’s social interactions, language development, and eye contact with adults. Parents can learn about related research discoveries.

Children will be playing with researchers and toys. Parents will be with their child for the entire visit. Parents will need to fill out forms written in English. Participation is completely voluntary.

Sign up online: ilabs.uw.edu/LookingStudy

Contact Dawn Hathaway: jalab@uw.edu or (206) 685-2045